How to help your son follow the Bobcat, Wolf, and Arrow Point trails

If you could give your son the greatest gift of all, what would it be? It wouldn’t be money or anything money can buy. Whether you are rich or poor, the greatest gift is within your power because that gift helps a boy become a person with a good feeling about himself and a genuine concern for others. Cub Scouting can help you provide this gift.

Your Son, Cub Scouting, and You

As a parent or guardian, you want your son to grow up to be self-reliant and dependable—a person of worth, a caring individual. Scouting has these same goals in mind for him.

Since 1910 we’ve been weaving lifetime values into fun and educational activities designed to help families teach their boys how to make good decisions throughout their lives and give them confidence as they become the adult leaders of tomorrow.

In a society where your son is often taught that winning is everything, Cub Scouting teaches him to do his best and be helpful to others as expressed in the Cub Scout Promise, motto, and Law of the Pack.

The Wolf den will involve your son in a group of boys his own age where he can earn status and recognition. There he will also gain a sense of personal achievement from the new skills he learns.
The Purposes of Cub Scouting

Cub Scouting is a year-round family-oriented part of the BSA program designed for boys who are in first through fifth grades (or are 7, 8, 9, and 10 years old). Parents, leaders, and organizations work together to achieve the 10 purposes of Cub Scouting:

1. Character Development
2. Spiritual Growth
3. Good Citizenship
4. Sportsmanship and Fitness
5. Family Understanding
6. Respectful Relationships
7. Personal Achievement
8. Friendly Service
9. Fun and Adventure
10. Preparation for Boy Scouts

Cub Scouting

Your Cub Scout is a member of a Wolf Cub Scout den. Most dens have six to eight boys and meet once a week. Den meetings are a time for learning new things and having fun. Dens are led by a team of adult volunteers—the den leader and assistant den leader(s). Den leaders are usually adult family members of boys in the den.

Your Cub Scout is also a member of a pack. Most packs have several dens and meet once a month. Pack meetings usually follow a suggested theme and are a time for boys to be recognized for their accomplishments during the month, to perform skits and songs they’ve learned in den meetings, and to have fun with the entire family.

Packs are led by a Cubmaster and pack committee. Like the den leaders, the Cubmaster and assistants are volunteers and are usually adult family members of boys in the pack. Most pack committees consist of adult family members and members of the pack’s chartered organization. The pack committee makes plans for pack meetings and activities and takes care of the “business” items necessary for a quality pack program.

The pack is owned by a community organization that is granted a charter by the Boy Scouts of America to use the Scouting program. This chartered organization might be a school, service club, religious group, or other group interested in youth. The chartered organization approves the leadership of the pack, provides a meeting place, and operates the pack within the guidelines and policies of the organization and the Boy Scouts of America.

Akelas’s OK

As you look through this book, you’ll see places for “Akelas’s OK.” That usually means your okay. Akela (ah-KAY-la) is the boy’s leader. At home, that is you; at den meetings, it is the den leader; at school, it is the teacher. Almost all electives and achievements are done by you and your Cub Scout at home, not in the den meeting. This book is filled with more than 200 pages of activities for you and your son to enjoy together. Once your Cub Scout has done his best, you can approve the completion of the requirement and the den leader will record his progress in the den records.

Notes for Akela

Throughout the Wolf Handbook, special notes for you are printed along with the requirements for special projects that require the supervision and participation of adults. Watch for these “Notes for Akela.” They are printed in a smaller, different typestyle for your easy identification. This is an example:

NOTE for Akela: This is a note for the parent or other adult helping a Wolf Cub Scout along the trail.
Character Connections®

Cub Scouting’s Character Connections program helps your son know, commit, and practice Cub Scouting’s 12 core values while enjoying fun and adventure in his Wolf den. This symbol identifies Character Connections throughout this book and in other Cub Scouting materials.

Cub Scouting’s 12 Core Values

1. Citizenship: Contributing service and showing responsibility to local, state, and national communities.
2. Compassion: Being kind and considerate, and showing concern for the well-being of others.
3. Cooperation: Being helpful and working together with others toward a common goal.
4. Courage: Being brave and doing what is right regardless of our fears, the difficulties, or the consequences.
5. Faith: Having inner strength and confidence based on our trust in God.
6. Health and Fitness: Being personally committed to keeping our minds and bodies clean and fit.
7. Honesty: Telling the truth and being worthy of trust.
8. Perseverance: Sticking with something and not giving up, even if it is difficult.
9. Positive Attitude: Being cheerful and setting our minds to look for and find the best in all situations.
10. Resourcefulness: Using human and other resources to their fullest.
11. Respect: Showing regard for the worth of something or someone.
12. Responsibility: Fulfilling our duty to God, country, other people, and ourselves.
The Bobcat Trail

In Rudyard Kipling’s The Jungle Book, the black panther Begheera is the mighty hunter who teaches the cubs the skills of the jungle. In Cub Scouting we use the symbol of the Bobcat. The Bobcat rank is for all boys who join Cub Scouting. If your boy joined Cub Scouting as a Wolf Cub Scout, he must earn the Bobcat badge before receiving any other award or rank. You’ll find his trail (the requirements) on pages 16 through 35. Along this trail are the Cub Scout Promise, the Law of the Pack, and the Cub Scout motto. These are the three most important things a boy must learn because they will help him through all of the trails of Scouting.

One part of the Bobcat trail is to read and complete the exercises in the booklet How to Protect Your Children from Child Abuse. Child abuse is a problem in our society, and this booklet will help you help your child to avoid potentially abusive situations. Note: The booklet is provided as a tear-out section in the front of this book. Please do tear it out (that makes the book easier to handle), read it carefully, and keep it at hand for easy reference.

When you and your son have followed the eight tracks of the Bobcat, he may wear his Bobcat badge. It will be presented at the pack meeting.

The Wolf Trail

After your Cub Scout has earned his Bobcat badge, he can start along the Wolf trail. This is a big adventure for a boy, one the Boy Scouts of America hopes all boys will complete.

When you have okayed the tracks your son has filled in for all 12 achievements, he may become a Wolf Cub Scout. How quickly your son progresses is up to him and you. He should do his best to complete each track; that’s a part of the promise he made to become a Bobcat and it is the Cub Scout motto—Do Your Best. Don’t okay a track if you both know that he can do a better job. Move on to something else, then go back and try again.

The important thing is to keep him interested by working on the trail with him as often as possible.
Progress Toward Ranks

Your son doesn’t have to wait until he completes his entire Wolf trail before being recognized for his work. When he completes any three achievements, his den leader can present the Progress Toward Ranks emblem to him. It’s a diamond with a plastic thong, and is worn on the button of the right pocket of his uniform shirt. Each time he completes three achievements he will receive another gold bead. After he gets his fourth gold bead, he will be ready to receive his Wolf badge at a pack meeting.

The Arrow Point Trail

Your Cub Scout can also search the Arrow Point trail. On the Wolf trail, the main sections were called achievements, things that we would like all boys to do. On the Arrow Point trail, the main sections are called electives, choices that a boy can make on his own and with your guidance.

To earn a Gold Arrow Point to wear beneath his Wolf badge, a boy must complete any 10 elective projects of the more than 100 choices shown in the book. For every 10 additional electives he completes, the Wolf Cub Scout qualifies for a Silver Arrow Point to wear beneath the Gold. He can earn as many Silver Arrow Points as he wants until he completes the second grade (or turns 9). Arrow Points are presented at the pack meeting after he receives his Wolf badge.

Your son should begin earning achievements toward his Wolf badge as soon as he completes the Bobcat requirements. Completing electives for Arrow Points generally should wait until after he has earned his Wolf badge, and he cannot receive Arrow Points until he has been awarded his Wolf badge. He might, however, find some electives that he could be completing before he earns the Wolf badge. Some of the activities in “Sports,” Wolf Elective 20, might be examples. As long as he completes these electives after he has earned his Bobcat, you may credit him for them, but be sure to keep him focused on the 12 achievements until he completes them.

Do Your Best

When has a boy completed an elective or achievement? When he, in your opinion as Akela, has completed the skill to the best of his ability. In Cub Scouting, boys are judged against their own standard, not against other boys.

If your Cub Scout has a mental or physical disability that prevents him from attempting an achievement, talk to your Cubmaster about using an elective as an alternative.
The Story of Akela and Mowgli

Baden-Powell, the founder of Scouting, based Cub Scouting on one of the stories in Rudyard Kipling’s Jungle Book. It was called “Mowgli’s Brothers.” We know it as “The Story of Akela and Mowgli.” Read the story twice, once to yourself and the second time to your Cub Scout.

Once upon a time in the jungles of India on a warm summer evening, Father Wolf awoke, stretched his paws, and prepared to go hunting.

The moon shone into the mouth of the cave where Mother Wolf lay sleeping with their four young cubs. Suddenly, a shadow crossed the opening of the cave and a whining voice said, “Good hunting, o’ chief of the wolves, and good luck to your children.” It was Tabaqui, the sneaky little jackal who, because he is too lazy to hunt for himself, picks up scraps left by other animals.

Father Wolf told him, “There is no food here, but come in if you wish.”

Tabaqui said, “For a poor animal like myself a dry bone is a feast,” and in no time at all he was cracking away on a bone at the back of the cave. Now Tabaqui was always ready to make trouble and to talk about others. He said, “Shere Khan, the mighty tiger, has changed his hunting ground. He hunts in these hills for the next moon.” (Shere Khan was the tiger who lived about 20 miles away, near the big river.)

Father Wolf said, “By the Law of the Jungle, he has no right to change his hunting ground. He will scare the animals away for miles around.”
Tabaqui said, “I could have saved myself the trouble of telling you. You can hear him now in the jungle below.” And he trotted off to find the tiger.

Father and Mother Wolf listened. From the valley below, they could hear the angry whine of a tiger who had caught nothing and didn't care if the whole jungle knew it.

“The fool,” said Father Wolf, “to start a night’s hunting with all that noise!” The whine changed to a humming-purr, which is the noise a tiger makes when he is hunting humans. Father Wolf said, “Are there not enough frogs and beetles that he must hunt humans?”

Just then there was a most untigerish howl from Shere Khan, and Mother Wolf said, “He missed! What happened?”

Father Wolf ran out a few paces and looked down to a clearing where there were several woodcutters’ huts. He said, “Shere Khan has had no more sense than to jump at the woodcutters’ fire. He burned his feet! Tabaqui is with him and they have frightened all the people away.”

“Listen,” Mother Wolf said, “something is coming up the hill. Get ready!”
Father Wolf crouched and sprang, but as he sprang, he stopped himself in midair because what he saw was a little boy!
“Man!” he said. “A man-cub. Look!”
“I have never seen one,” Mother Wolf said. “Bring him to me.”

Father Wolf brought him into the cave and put him down beside Mother Wolf. The boy snuggled close to the young wolf cubs. “How little he is,” said Mother Wolf.

Suddenly, the moonlight was blocked from the door of the cave by the great head and shoulders of Shere Khan.
“What does Shere Khan want?” said Father Wolf with angry eyes.
“The man-cub!” said Shere Khan. “Give him to me!”
Father Wolf said, “The wolves take orders only from Akela, the head of the wolf pack. The man-cub is ours.”

The tiger’s roar filled the cave with thunder. “The man-cub is mine. Give him to me!” said Shere Khan.
Mother Wolf sprang up quickly and said, “The man-cub is ours. You have frightened his family away. He shall not be killed. He shall live to run with the pack and hunt with the pack.”
Shere Khan knew he could not fight the two wolves in the cave; therefore, he went away growling, snarling, and saying, “We will see what the pack has to say about this man-cub.”

When the tiger had gone, Father Wolf said, “Shere Khan is right. What will the pack say?” But Mother Wolf had decided to keep him. And they called him Mowgli (“the frog”) because his skin was smooth and without hair. Mowgli stayed with the young cubs.

When they were old enough to run, Father and Mother Wolf set off with them one night, through the jungle to a meeting of the wolf pack at the Council Rock. The Law of the Jungle states that wolves must gather to look over the new wolf cubs of the pack, so that they will know them and take care of them when they see them in the jungle.

As each young wolf was pushed into the circle, Akela, the great leader of the wolf pack, sitting high on the Council Rock, called, “Look at each cub, o’ wolves. Look well.” At last it was Mowgli’s turn and Mother Wolf pushed him into the circle where he sat playing with some stones in the moonlight. Akela did not even twitch an ear as he called, “Look well, o’ wolves.”

From outside the circle came a roar from Shere Khan. “The man-cub is mine. Give him to me.” Some of the wolves took up the cry, “What do we want with a man-cub in the pack?”
There is a law that says if there is an argument as to the right of a cub to join the pack, two members must speak for him. Akela asked, “Who speaks for this cub?”

At first there was no answer, but then Baloo, the sleepy brown bear who teaches the cubs the Law of the Pack, stepped into the circle and said, “I will speak for the man-cub. Let him join the pack and I, myself, will teach him the law and the ways of the jungle.”

“We need another,” said Akela. “Who besides Baloo speaks?”

An inky black shadow dropped silently into the circle. It was Bagheera, the black panther, the mighty hunter who teaches the cubs the skills of the jungle. In his soft silky voice he said, “If there is a question about the right of a cub to join the pack, his life may be bought at a price. Isn’t that the law?”

“Yes,” said the pack.

“Then to Baloo’s good word, I will add fresh meat which is in the valley below, if you will accept Mowgli into the pack.”
The wolves cried, “Let him join. What harm can a man-cub do?” They looked him over; then, one by one, the wolves went down the hill, leaving Mowgli with Father and Mother Wolf, Baloo, and Bagheera at the Council Rock with Akela. Akela said, “Now take him away and teach him the Law of the Pack.”

And that is how Mowgli joined the Seeonee Wolf Pack.

The Boy Scouts of America hereby authorizes you, who have read this Parent Guide, to act as Akela. Indicate your willingness to serve by signing below.

Welcome to the Wolf Cub Scout Den!

You have heard how Mowgli met Akela (say ah-KAY-la). Just as that story says, in a real wolf pack all the wolves look to Akela, the leader, for guidance—when to work, when to learn, when to play.

Akela makes sure each young wolf in the pack gets the chance to learn about the world, and how to get along with other members of the pack.

There are times when Akela romps and plays games with members of the pack. But there are times when Akela, with a movement of his head or a steady gaze, commands the young wolves’ attention.

Akela, the wolf pack leader, is caring and wise. He is both a friend and a teacher.

Like your parents or guardians, your teachers, and other adults who help you learn, Akela is your guide.

Throughout the pages of this book, Akela will guide you to your place in the pack. Along the Wolf trail, you will learn the Cub Scout Promise and the Law of the Pack.
You will learn new skills. You will try new things. Akela, your guide, will help you begin your exciting trail through Cub Scouting, and onward to the Webelos den.

Come! Be a part of the pack. Follow the trail.

We begin our trail by following Akela’s friend, the Bobcat. If you have not earned your Bobcat badge yet, follow his trail first to become a Bobcat Cub Scout and to earn your place in the pack.
Welcome to Our Pack!

Say hi to my friend the Bobcat. He has eight things for you to do.

He Says

“Follow my Bobcat Trail.”

Fill in this track when you have completed all the Bobcat tracks. You may also mark the Trail Summary on page 233. When you have filled in all eight tracks, you can wear the Bobcat badge.
Learn and say the Cub Scout Promise and complete the Honesty Character Connection.

Cub Scout Promise

I, . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . , promise to do my best
To do my duty to God and my country,
To help other people, and
To obey the Law of the Pack.

When you say you will do something, that is a promise.

Duty to God means:
Put God first. Do what you know God wants you to do.

And my country means:
Do what you can for your country. Be proud that you are an American.

To help other people means:
Do things for others that would help them.

Obey the Law of the Pack means:
Do what Akela asks you to do. Be a good Cub Scout. Be proud that you are one.
Honesty

Know. Discuss these questions with your family: What is a promise? What does it mean to “keep your word?” What does honesty mean? What does it mean to “do your best?”

Commit. Discuss these questions with your family. Why is a promise important? Why is it important for people to trust you when you give your word? When might it be difficult to keep your word? List examples.

Practice. Discuss with family members why it is important to be trustworthy and honest and how you can do your best to be honest when you are doing the activities in Cub Scouting.

When you can say the Cub Scout Promise and have completed the Honesty Character Connection on this page, fill in my track.

The Law of the Pack

The Cub Scout follows Akela.
The Cub Scout helps the pack go.
The pack helps the Cub Scout grow.
The Cub Scout gives goodwill.
The Cub Scout follows Akela (say Ah-KAY-la).

Akela is a good leader.
Your mother or father or other adult member of your family is Akela.
In the pack, your Cubmaster is Akela.
Your den leader is Akela.
At school, your teacher is Akela.

The Cub Scout helps the pack go.

Come to all the meetings. Do what you can to help. Think of others in the pack.

The pack helps the Cub Scout grow.

You can have fun when you are a part of the pack. Learn things from others. Do things with them.

The Cub Scout gives goodwill.

Smile. Be happy. Do things to help others. Little things make a big difference.

When you can say the Law of the Pack and tell what it means, fill in my track.
Webelos

Webelos (say WE-buh-lows) has a special meaning that Cub Scouts know. It is We’ll Be Loyal Scouts.

We’ll Be Loyal Scouts

WeBeLoS

Being loyal means that you will keep the Cub Scout Promise.

The Webelos Arrow of Light points the right way to go every day of the week. That is why the sun has seven rays—one for each day.

When you can tell what Webelos means, fill in my track.

Show the Cub Scout sign. Tell what it means.

Make the Cub Scout sign with your right hand. Hold with your arm straight up.

Cub Scout Sign

The two fingers stand for two parts of the Promise—“to help other people” and “to obey.” They look like a wolf’s ears; this means you are ready to listen to Akela.

Give the Cub Scout sign when you say the Cub Scout Promise or the Law of the Pack.

When you can give the Cub Scout sign and tell what it means, fill in my track.

Cub Scout Handshake

Here’s how to shake hands with another Cub Scout. Hold out your right hand just as you always do to shake hands. Put your first two fingers along the inside of the other boy’s wrist.

This means that you help and that you obey the Law of the Pack.
Cub Scout Motto

DO YOUR BEST is the Cub Scout motto.

It means
When you play a game, do your best to help your team.
When you study in school, do your best to learn from your teacher.
When you help at home, do your best to help your family.
Whatever you do, do your best.

When you know the Cub Scout motto and can tell what it means, fill in my track.

Cub Scout Salute

A salute is a way to show respect. We salute the flag to show respect to our country.

For the Cub Scout salute, use your right hand. Hold your fingers as you do for the Cub Scout sign. Keep the two straight fingers close together. Touch the tips of those fingers to your cap. If you are not wearing a cap, touch your right eyebrow.

When you can give the Cub Scout salute and tell what it means, fill in my track.
When you have completed these exercises with your parent or guardian, fill in my track.

Your Den

Your den is a group of boys who live in your general neighborhood. You might know and play with most of them.

About once a week you will meet with your den. Your den leader, the adult in charge of the meetings, will be Akela.

Your den leader will help guide you through the exciting Wolf trail that is part of the Cub Scout adventure. You will have fun doing that and other things.

You and other boys in your den will have fun getting ready for the pack meeting in many of your den meetings.

Cub Scouting is fun, and much of that fun starts in your den.

The den meeting is usually held in somebody’s home. It might be held in your home.
What do you do at a den meeting? Lots of things. You’d better be on time or you will miss something.

When you get there, Cub Scouts might be playing a game or doing a puzzle.

When all the Cub Scouts are there, it is time to start the meeting.

You might salute the flag or say the Cub Scout Promise.
Maybe you will play a game that has something to do with the month’s theme. Or you could do a stunt or skit or make something.

Before the meeting ends, you might be a part of the Living Circle ceremony. Hold out your left hand—palm down and thumb out. Hold the thumb of the boy on your left.

DO
- Raise the Living Circle.
- Lower it.
- Raise it.
- Lower it.
- Raise it.

SAY

Or you might end the meeting with this Cub Scout closing in sign language.

May the guiding light of Akela

and the SPIRIT of SCOUT ing

GO WITH YOU and

ME until our PATHS cross again.

Before you leave the den meeting, do three things:

1. Help clean up the room.
2. Be sure you have all your things.
3. Thank Akela (your leader).

Go home and get ready for more fun.
Your Pack

You will meet members of other dens at a pack meeting.

A pack meeting includes a show that has a theme, such as Cub Scout fair, or blue and gold banquet. Each den takes a part in the show.
But pack meetings are not just for Cub Scouts. Pack meetings are for families. They watch while Tiger Cubs, you and other Cub Scouts, and Webelos Scouts do your stuff and get your badges.

Your pack might belong to a church or a school or something like that. Your pack meets there.

The pack leader is called a Cubmaster. The Cubmaster is Akela for the pack.
Your Uniform

Now that you are a Cub Scout, you get to wear a uniform like the one shown on this page and page 35. It has blue pants or shorts and a blue shirt. There is a blue belt with a Cub Scout buckle, and a blue and gold neckerchief with a slide. You also wear an official navy blue cap with gold front panel and Wolf emblem.
You will earn lots of badges as a Cub Scout. These pictures show where to wear them on your uniform shirt.

Roll your neckerchief before you put it on. Here’s how:

- Right pocket
- Left pocket
- Right sleeve
- Left sleeve

World Crest

Temporary patch area
The Blue and Gold
The blue in your uniform stands for truth and spirituality, steadfast loyalty, and the sky above. Gold stands for warm sunlight, good cheer, and happiness. When you wear the Cub Scout uniform, people will know you are trying to be good and helpful.

Wear It
Wear your uniform to den and pack meetings. Wear it whenever you take part in something Cub Scouts do. Keep your uniform clean and neat. Hang it in a closet or fold it and put it in a drawer or on a shelf.
Now, follow my Wolf Trail

My track is different from the Bobcat’s. Cats don’t show their claws, but wolves and dogs do.

Fill in my tracks as you follow my trail. This will help you keep track of your progress along the Wolf trail. Not all the tracks have to be filled in. Sometimes you can choose. You may also fill in the tracks on the Trail Summary on pages 233 and 234.
You are growing. You are getting stronger. Try these feats of skill. Test your speed. Test your balance. Test your strength.
REQUIREMENT 1a

Play catch with someone 10 steps away. Play until you can throw and catch.

The United States flag stands for our country. Learn some ways to honor your flag.
Pledge of Allegiance

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

A pledge is a promise. Allegiance is to be true. Republic is our kind of government. Nation is a country. God is the one we worship. Indivisible is one that cannot be divided into pieces or parts. Liberty is freedom for you and for others. Justice is what is right and fair.
Lead a flag ceremony in your den. Here are some ideas:

Get your den to stand in a straight line and face the U.S. flag. Salute and say the Pledge of Allegiance.

OR

Stand in a square formation. Bring in the U.S. flag. Salute and say the Cub Scout Promise.

OR

Stand in a circle around the U.S. flag. Salute and say the Pledge of Allegiance.
REQUIREMENT

Tell how to respect and take care of the U.S. flag. Show three ways to display it.

Be careful not to

1. Let the flag get dirty.
2. Let the flag get torn.
3. Let the flag touch the ground.

Be healthy and strong. Learn what to do to be healthy. Keep active to be strong.
REQUIREMENT 3a

Make a chart and keep track of your health habits for two weeks.

On your chart, show how you follow these habits of good health:

- Bathe or shower often; use soap. Do this once a day, if you can. Mark on your chart when you do.
- Wash your hands before meals and after you use the toilet. Chart how many times a day you do this.
- Brush your teeth before you go to bed and after breakfast, and then mark it on your chart. Also brush your teeth or rinse your mouth after you eat.
- Drink lots of water—six or eight glasses every day. You could draw a little glass on your chart for every glass you drink.
- Run and play outdoors, but protect yourself from the sun. Use sunscreen. Wear a hat. (See the guidelines on page 196.) Chart how many minutes you are outdoors every day.
- Get the sleep you need. Chart how many hours you sleep each night.
1. If you have a cold, stay away from other people.

2. Get lots of rest.

3. Turn your head away from others when you sneeze or cough. Cover your mouth and nose.

4. Wash your hands often, and always wash them after you sneeze.
1. Tell a grown-up about the cut.

2. Let the cut bleed a little.

3. Wash it with soap and water.

4. Cover it with a stick-on bandage. For a big cut, get help fast.
Strive to do your best at home. Being responsible will help you be happy and safe. You should know what to do in case of emergency. Here are some things you should know and do whether you are home with your family or home alone. Taking care of yourself is a good way to be responsible and helpful in your home.
Make a list of phone numbers you need in case of an emergency. Put a copy of this list by each phone or in a central place in your home. Update it often.

Include on your list the phone numbers for:
- The police department
- The sheriff
- The fire department
- A doctor
- An ambulance service
- Adult family member (or members) at work
- Relatives at home
- Neighbors

Can you think of other important numbers?

Learn whether the 9-1-1 emergency service is available in your area and know how to use it if it is.

Ask an adult in your family to teach you how to use all the different kinds of phones you might have in your house, such as a cell phone or a pager.

Tell what to do if someone comes to the door and wants to come in.

NOTE for Akela: Discuss with your boy what to do if someone wants to come in when your boy is home alone.
REQUIREMENT 4c
Tell what to do if someone calls on the phone.

NOTE for Akela: Discuss with your boy what to say if someone calls and your boy is home alone.

REQUIREMENT 4d
When you and your family leave home, remember to...

- Turn off the lights.
- Close and lock the windows.
- Turn off the water.
- Take care of pets.
- Have my key.
- Lock all of the doors.

NOTE for Akela: Help your boy to make sure everything is taken care of before he leaves the house.
REQUIREMENT 4e

Talk with your family members. Agree on the household jobs you will be responsible for. Make a list of your jobs and mark off when you have finished them. Do this for one month.

NOTE for Akela: You can teach your boy responsibility by helping him find jobs he can do to help around the home.

REQUIREMENT 4f

Visit an important place in your community, such as a historic or government location. Explain why it is important.

Keep the temperature in your home moderate—not too hot in the winter and not too cold in the summer.

Keep the refrigerator door closed.
It’s fun to be the cook. The cook fixes the meal and might or might not use a stove. You won’t need a stove for most sandwiches and salads.
Study the Food Guide Pyramid. Name some foods from each of the food groups.

Go to www.mypyramid.gov to learn exactly how many servings a day your body needs from each food group.

Grains—Make half your grains whole. Eat at least 3 ounces of whole-grain cereals, breads, crackers, rice, or pasta every day. (If it's white, it's not whole-grain.) One ounce is about 1 slice of bread, about 1 cup of breakfast cereal, or ½ cup of cooked rice, cereal, or pasta.

Vegetables—Vary your veggies. Eat more dark-green veggies like broccoli, spinach, and other dark leafy greens. Eat more orange vegetables like carrots and sweet potatoes. Eat more dry beans and peas like pinto beans, kidney beans, and lentils.

Fruits—Focus on fruits. Eat a variety of fruit. Choose fresh, frozen, canned, or dried fruit. Examples are apples, strawberries, bananas, peaches, grapes. Go easy on fruit juices (they are high in sugar and low in fiber).

Fats, sugars, and salt (sodium)—Choose these with caution. Get most of your fat from fish, nuts, and vegetable oils. Eat less solid fats like butter, stick margarine, shortening, and lard. Check food labels to keep your saturated fats, trans fats, and sodium lower. Choose foods and beverages that are low in added sugar.

Milk—Get your calcium-rich foods. Go low-fat or fat-free when you choose milk, yogurt, and other milk products. If you can’t drink milk, choose lactose-free products or foods and beverages with added calcium.

Meat and beans—Go lean with protein. Choose low-fat or lean meats and poultry. Bake it, broil it, or grill it (don’t fry it). Vary your protein routine—choose more fish, beans, peas, nuts, and seeds.

Water—Not on the pyramid, but essential. Be sure you drink plenty of water, too, especially if you’ve been playing hard, hiking, or exercising.

Write to a friend using invisible “ink.”

To make the ink, use milk or lemon juice.

Use a toothpick or a small brush for a pen.

When the “ink” dries, you can’t see it until you hold it over a light. The heat from the light will turn the “ink” light brown.
“Write” your name using American Sign Language. People who are deaf use this language.

Make a tepee.

Cover the frame with paper.

Make a pretend fire.

Tie rolled newspapers and stack them.

Insert a 15-watt yellow or red bulb.
1. Pound plastic bowls or coconut shells on a board for the clop-clop sound of horses.

2. Rattle poster board or a metal sheet for thunder.

3. Roll dried peas in a can for rain.
4. Snap a belt or slap the floor or a table for a gunshot.

5. Use a bicycle bell for a telephone ring.

NOTE for Akela: Make these sounds behind a door or a screen so that the audience will think they are real.
Be the announcer for a skit.

Use the ruler on this page to see how far you can stretch your hand.

The ruler on the edge of the page shows measurements in centimeters and in inches. Measure your hand using both kinds of measurements.

This hand span is almost 12 centimeters. How many inches is that?

What’s your hand span in centimeters? In inches?

100 centimeters = 1 meter

Meters are used in many sports, such as track and field events.
C Make and use a bench fork.

Elective 3 127
Play a Game

Play these games with children younger than you are, with other Cub Scouts, or with grown-ups.

a  Play Pie-tin Washer Toss.

Each player tosses five washers at a pie tin. Score 1 point for each washer that stays in the pan.

b  Play Marble Sharpshooter.

Each player rolls five marbles at glass bottle targets. Score 1 point for each marble that rolls between the bottles and misses them.

Akela's OK  Date  Recorded by the den leader
Play Ring Toss.

Make five rings out of rope, rubber, wire, heavy cardboard, or folded newspaper.

Toss the rings at a stick in the ground or on a stand.

Ringers = 3 points
Leaners = 1 point
Play Beanbag Toss.

Make a target out of heavy cardboard or a cardboard box. Color it. Each player throws five beanbags. Score 3 points for hitting the eyes, 1 point for the mouth.
e  ▼  Play a game of marbles.

Put marbles inside a circle like this.

Stand behind the pitch line and toss your shot toward the lag line.

The player nearest the lag line shoots first from the edge of the circle.

The first player to knock seven marbles out of the circle (with his shooter) is the winner.

f  ▼  Play a wide-area or large group game with your den or pack.
Fly kites away from electrical wires.

Fly kites in fair weather. Put them away if a storm approaches.

Make kites with paper and wood, never metal—it might attract lightning.

Use dry string for kite line.

Fly kites in an open field or park, never on a street or railroad line.

If a kite gets caught in wires, a treetop, or somewhere else, have your parent or another adult see if it can be saved.

Remember, have fun but play it safe.
Make and fly a paper bag kite.

All you need for a paper-bag kite is a big paper bag and some tape and string.

1. Cut out the bottom of the bag. Fold down the sides and make the bag flat.
2. Turn the bag over. Make a mark in the center of the bag a third of the way down. Draw lines to the corners and cut out the pieces on this side.

3. Turn the bag over and tape the wings and folded sides to the front. Tape the ends of the wings. Punch a hole in each wing through the tape for the strings. Cut out a vent near the bottom.

Some Cub Scouts tape a tail below the vent.
C

Make and fly a two-stick kite.

1. String goes into notch.

2. Fold paper over string and paste.
4.

Self-adjusting bridle

Tie two loops around the kite stick for the bridle.

Fold tissue paper like this for the tail.
Make and fly a three-stick kite.
e  Make and use a reel for kite string.
Make a model boat with a rubber-band propeller.

Make two holes in the propeller. Thread the rubber band through one hole and out the other. Attach it to the boat. Wind it up, and let it go!

Wind the propeller this way to make your boat go forward.
You can get credit each time you make a different model. You can count the pinewood derby car, raingutter regatta boat, or space derby rocket that you have made.
Books, Books, Books

Books are magical. They are the spaceships of our minds. With them you can go anywhere.

Parties are more fun when you’ve made a gift yourself and helped plan and put on the party.

Help with a home or den party.

Help decorate the room.
Help plan and play games.
Help serve refreshments.
Help clean up afterward.

Talk over your party with Akela. Did your party go as you planned? What did you like about your party? What would you do different for your next party?

Of thee I sing.
Land where my fathers died!
Land of the Pilgrims’ pride!
From ev’ry mountainside,
Let freedom ring!

Our fathers’ God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing.

Learn and sing the first verse of our national anthem.

The Star-Spangled Banner

Oh, say can you see
   by the dawn’s early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars
   through the perilous fight,
O’er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket’s red glare,
   the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night

Second verse: Deep in my heart
Third verse: Down in my feet
Fourth verse: All over me
Fifth verse:
I’ve got that Cub Scout spirit
Up in my head, deep in my heart, down in my feet;
I’ve got that Cub Scout spirit
All over me, all over me to stay.

Train Song

(Tune: “Yankee Doodle”)

I met an engine on a hill
All hot and broken-hearted,
And this is what he said to me
As up the hill he started.

(Slowly)
I think I can, I think I can,
At any rate, I’ll try.
I think I can, I think I can,
At any rate, I’ll try.

He reached the top, and looking back
To where he stood and doubted,
He started on the downward track
And this is what he shouted:

(Faster)
I knew I could, I knew I could,
I never should have doubted.
I knew I could, I knew I could,
I never should have doubted!

• Shoot only when a grown-up is with you.

• When handling a bow with an arrow in it (when the arrow is nocked), always point the arrow in a safe direction.

• Nock the arrow only when told.

• Nock the arrow only when on the firing line.

• Always point the arrow down-range toward the target.

• When not shooting, always point the arrow downward.

• Never shoot straight up in the air.

• Never shoot toward anything other than the target.

• Never shoot a bow without an arrow. You could break the bow.

NOTE for Akela: Archery can be done only at a district or council day camp, resident camp, or family camp.

Skier’s Safety and Courtesy Code

- Good skiers always ski under control. This means you must be able to turn and stop at will so that you can avoid running into trees and other skiers.
- Make sure your ski binding holds your foot firmly to your ski and that your release works properly.
- Ski properly clothed and only when weather and conditions permit.
- Wear a ski or winter helmet to protect your head.
- Ski in an area that matches your abilities.
- Respect the rights of other skiers.
- Keep yourself physically fit.
- When skiing downhill and overtaking another skier, stay clear of the other person. Prevent collisions.
- When you and another skier are headed toward each other always stay to the right.
- Do not stop in the middle of a trail. If you fall or must stop, get off to the side of the trail. If your fall left a hole, or sitzmark, fill it with loose snow.
• When entering a trail from the side, look up the trail to make sure no skier is coming down. The same holds true when you stop. Check up the slope before you continue to ski down the mountain.

• Never walk on ski trails without skis on your feet.

• Your skis should be equipped with a safety strap or spring-type prongs that grab into the snow when released.

• Read and obey all traffic signs on the ski slopes.

• When using a ski lift, do not cut into the line. Wait your turn.

NOTE for Akela: Find a skier who can help you. Also see the snow ski and board sports section in the Cub Scout Academics and Sports Program Guide.

Know the safety rules for ice skating. Skate, without falling, as far as you can walk in 50 steps. Come to a stop. Turn from forward to backward.

Ice-Skating Safety Rules

- Always use sharp skates.
- Skate only on safe ice in places where skating is supervised.
- Never skate alone.
- Never skate or walk on thin ice.
- Never throw anything onto the ice.
- Never push or grab another skater.

Wear warm clothes!

NOTE for Akela: Find a skater who can help you. Also see the ice skating section in the Cub Scout Academics and Sports Program Guide.
In roller skating, know the safety rules. From a standing start, skate forward as far as you can walk in 50 steps. Come to a stop within 10 walking steps. Skate around a corner one way without coasting. Then do the same coming back. Turn from forward to backward.

Indoor Skating Rules

• Fast skating is not allowed.
• When entering the skating floor, give the right-of-way to other skaters.
• In leaving, move slowly to your right. Don’t cut across the path of other skaters.
• Do not push or play games that bother other skaters.
• Skate only in the direction of the skating traffic.

NOTE for Akela: Find a skater who can help you. Also see the roller skating section in the Cub Scout Academics and Sports Program Guide.
Outdoor Skating Rules

- On sidewalks, give walkers the right-of-way.
- Don’t race out of driveways or alleys.
- Avoid skating on rough pavement.
- Don’t skate on other people’s property without permission.
- Stop and look both ways before you cross a street.
- Obey traffic laws, signs, and signals.
- Don’t skate in the street in traffic.
- Avoid uncontrolled coasting down hills.
- Don’t hitch onto bicycles, cars, or trucks.
- Don’t skate at night.
- Check your equipment before skating. Be sure all fittings are tight.
- Wear a helmet, gloves, wrist guards, and pads.

NOTE for Akela: ASTM standard or Snell-approved helmet; padded gloves; wrist supports; and elbow, knee, and hip pads should be worn for skating.
Go bowling.

Bowling Basics

- Wear bowling shoes.
- Choose one bowling ball and use it.
- Bowl when it’s your turn.
- Stay in your approach lane.
- Step back off the approach lane when you have finished your delivery. This lets bowlers in other lanes bowl without distraction.
- Pick up the ball with both hands, one on either side of the ball, to avoid pinched fingers and hands.
- Keep the ball on the ball return where it won’t roll off and hurt someone.
- Check shoelaces and be sure they are tied.
- Return the bowling ball to the storage rack and rental shoes to the counter.

NOTE for Akela: See the bowling section in the Cub Scout Academics and Sports Program Guide.
h  ▼  Show how to make a sprint start in track. See how far you can run in 10 seconds.

(The runs in the Olympic Games are measured in meters. A meter is equal to 39.37 inches.)

Tell a short story to your den, your den leader, or an adult.

Get story ideas from Boys’ Life and other magazines.

I told a story about ________________________________ .
Tell how to get to a nearby fire station or police station from your home, your den meeting place, and school. Use directions and street names.

I gave directions from my house to ____________________.
I gave directions from my den meeting place to ________.
I gave directions from my school to ____________________.

Invite a boy to join Cub Scouting or help a new Cub Scout through the Bobcat trail.

b Explain the basics of how to take care of yourself in the outdoors.

- Be prepared: Talk to Akela about what you need to bring on your outdoor trip.
- Never go anywhere alone. Always have a buddy.
- Always take these eight essentials:
  1. First aid kit
  2. Filled water bottle
  3. Flashlight
  4. Trail food
  5. Sunscreen
  6. Whistle
  7. Rain gear
  8. Pocketknife

C Tell what to do if you get lost.

If You Think You Are Lost

- Stay where you are so rescuers can find you. Don’t try to find your way back.
- Sit down in the open where people can see you.
- Blow your whistle three times if you hear rescuers.
The Buddy System

- Everyone has a buddy.
- Your buddy goes everywhere with you, and you go everywhere with him.
- Know where your buddy is at all times.

The buddy system is important. If you get hurt or lost, your buddy will be able to help you. Two people can often solve a problem better than one.
Participate with your den at a campfire in front of your pack.

Campfires are a special time to have fun!

- Sing a fun song that everyone knows. Or teach everyone a simple new song.
- Present a short skit. Make sure that everyone can hear you.
- Tell a joke. It’s okay if they have heard it before.

With your den or pack or family, participate in a worship service outdoors.

The Cub Scout World Conservation Award is an international award you can earn by doing the following things:

Wolf Cub Scouts

- Complete Achievement 7.
- Complete all Arrow Points in two of the following three electives:
  - 13. Birds
  - 15. Grow Something
  - 19. Fishing
- Participate in a den or pack conservation project in addition to the above.

After you have done all of these things, ask your den leader to order your award.

Leave No Trace is a plan that helps you to be more concerned about your environment. It also helps you protect it for future generations.

You can earn the Cub Scouting’s Leave No Trace Awareness Award by doing the following things:

1. Discuss with your leader or parent/guardian the importance of the Leave No Trace frontcountry guidelines.
2. On three separate outings, practice the frontcountry guidelines of Leave No Trace.
3. Complete Achievement 7, “Your Living World.”
4. Participate in a Leave No Trace–related service project.
5. Promise to practice the Leave No Trace frontcountry guidelines by signing the Cub Scout Leave No Trace Pledge.
6. Draw a poster to illustrate the Leave No Trace frontcountry guidelines and display it at a pack meeting.

After you have done these things, ask your den leader to order your award.

Approved

NOTE for Akela: Ask your den leader for more information on Cub Scouting’s Leave No Trace frontcountry guidelines and this award.
Cub Scout Academics and Sports

You can have fun and learn new skills when you take part in the Cub Scout Academics and Sports program. You can also earn a belt loop just for learning about a sport or academic subject and participating in it. You can take part at home, in your den or pack, or in activities in your community. There are many Academics and Sports subjects for you to choose from.

If you decide to keep on working at an Academics or Sports area over a period of time, you can earn a Cub Scout Academics or Sports pin. The book Cub Scout Academics and Sports Program Guide tells you all the requirements you need to know to earn belt loops and pins.

Ask your den leader to tell you more about the Cub Scout Academics and Sports program.

As a Wolf Cub Scout, I have earned these Cub Scout Academics and Sports belt loops:

When you have finished the second grade (or are 9 years old), you can start working on the achievements and electives in the Bear Handbook.

In the Bear Handbook you can choose 12 out of 24 achievements to earn your Bear badge. You will have a lot of fun learning about God, your country, your family, and yourself.

You will also have 24 new, fun electives to work on to earn Arrow Points.

Do your best as a Wolf Cub Scout, then join the fun as you work with your family, your den leader, your Cub Scout friends, and Baloo on the Bear Cub Scout trail.
